ASTi ENTERPRISE SOLUTIONS

Reduce up-front and life cycle costs, expedite acquisition, and simplify sustainment with ASTi's enterprise license agreement.

ASTi ENTERPRISE SOLUTIONS

Visions change, missions are refocused, and training requirements expand. In order to quickly adapt to the ever-changing military training and simulation landscape, programs must be agile. That's where ASTi's enterprise license agreement (ELA) comes in.

ASTi's ELA is a subscription-based service that provides unlimited distribution of product licenses within your enterprise. The ELA also bundles a support package to maintain operational effectiveness throughout the products' life cycle, reducing cost without compromising support. ELA services may include the following:

- Software updates including our latest features & fixes, and Information Assurance (IA) maintenance*
- Dedicated account manager, and worldwide on-site training & fielding
- Help desk services & priority RMA schedule
- Support for enclave-specific requirements*; the ELA can be tailored to the unique requirements of your enterprise. E.g., Multi-Level Security (MLS) licensing, high-capacity / short-duration exercise support, etc.
- Support services for Risk Management Framework (RMF) and Authority to Operate (ATO) accreditation*
- The ASTi engineering services team can develop customer-defined product enhancements and help troubleshoot radio infrastructure problems.
- Our product sustainment supplies the built-in benefits of ASTi's life cycle sustainment processes. We identify and mitigate operating system migration, hardware compatibility, and obsolescence issues.

* IA, RMF, and ATO related services are available to approved U.S. Government programs. Contact us to see if your program qualifies.

With an annual purchase, the ELA removes the complexity of managing multiple contracts. You may also provision new users without the overhead and unforeseen budget impacts of buying additional licenses. Upon renewal, you can reevaluate your investment and make adjustments to ensure the new agreement aligns with your changing needs.

ASTi's ELA forms a partnership that combines our technology, assurance, engineering and management expertise; we operate as an extension of your staff. And all of these advantages are available to you at a discounted, fixed-price.

Unleash the full power of your investment.
